Lead with Design. Lead with OMNOVA.

Break the mold.

What a time to be alive. There's certainly no need to shout, 'Things are different now.' It is a phrase uttered far too often that can elevate fear or reignite passion and purpose. The personal and societal impacts of a global pandemic have uprooted many, changing their very core and establishing a new season and reason for examination of self.

But, what happens when a change to doing what seems right challenges expectations? A crossroads of contradiction results from this unforeseen and seemingly unending fog of chaos. Today, life is in flux; layered with cozy grey nooks or stark white solitude. There's often no right answer, but we accept the obligation to look both inward and outward to enable a movement forward, revealing the answers to one simple question – what do I do now?

This edition reflects the efforts taken to re-examine our soul, reboot for our best self and author our next chapter.

SOUL

Strip away the shell.

When moments of uncertainty swarm, the opportunity to reflect on personal priorities is afforded. Perhaps an affinity for the elemental shines back. For it is through the acceptance of living well with less that will provide abundant richness.

Paring down, the earthy hues in SOUL's color palette express a need to be more out than in, to connect with nature in new and often diverse ways that repair our whole being.

Cool and environmentally considerate wood tones spark a search for unbounded wellness, found both inside-out and outside-in, and culminating in a calming sense of simplification and purpose.

Becoming one with Mother Earth can be effortless and playful. Breathing in fresh air during a hike and digging in unblemished dirt can raise the oxygen levels in your brain, increasing serotonin levels to boost your mood and clear your mind.

REBOOT

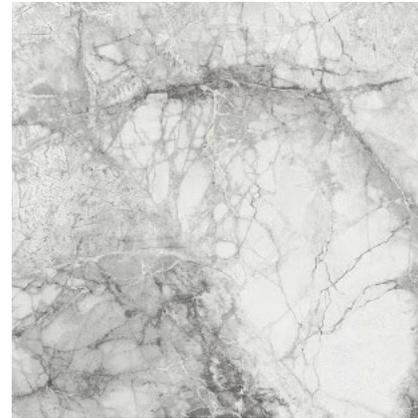

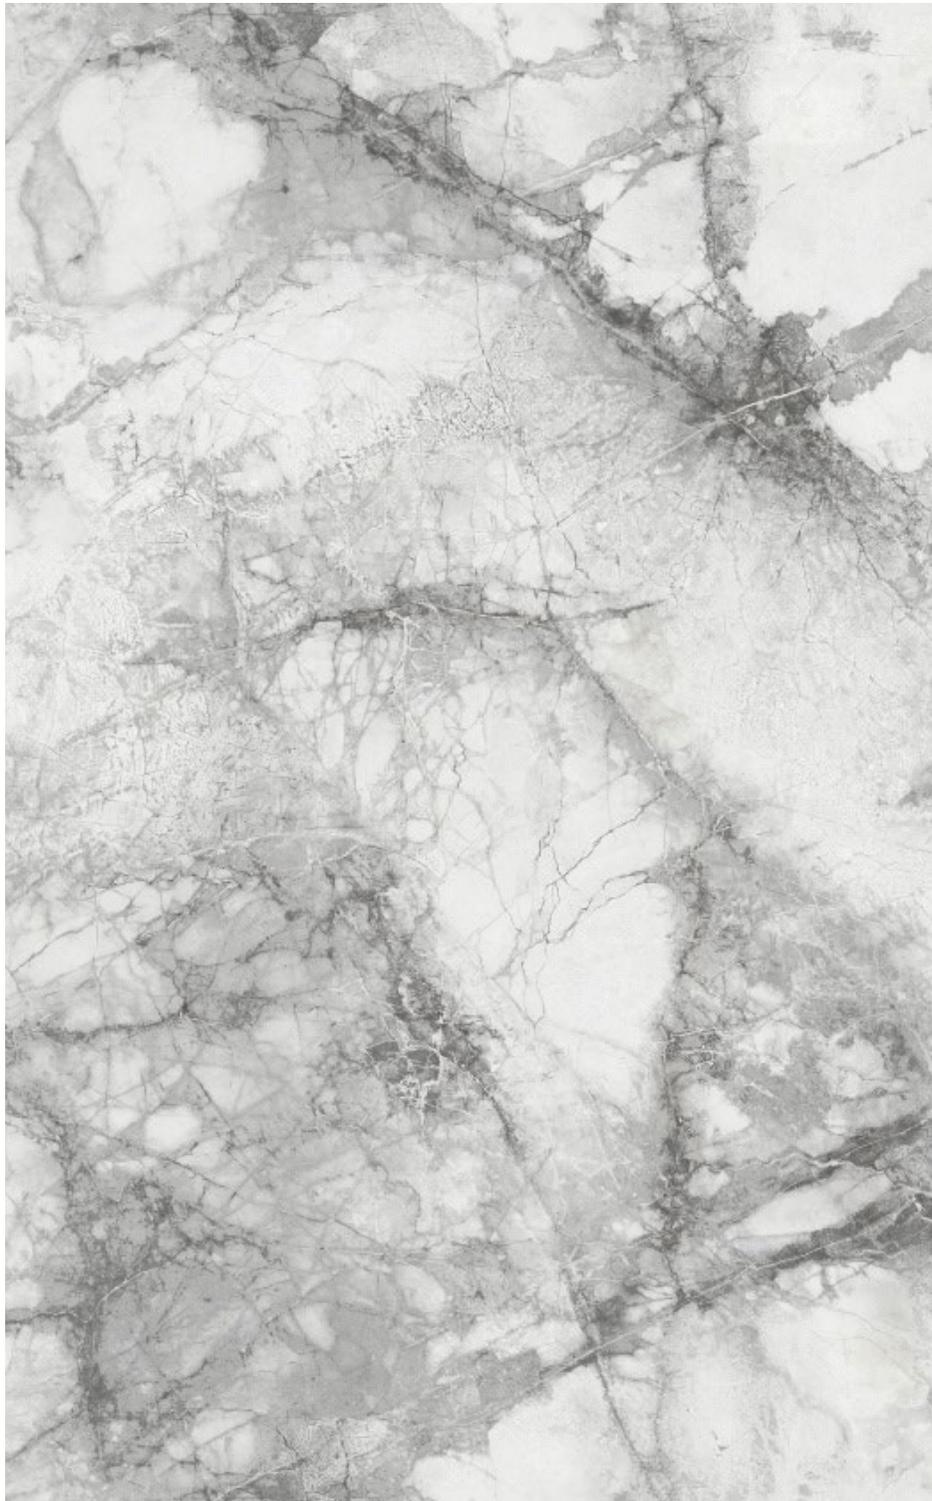

Commence a transformation.

Starting over can be hard. The ability to move forward isn't always presented with a neat and tidy bow on top. How do we figure out what life anew will look like? While this may sound daunting, re-examining goals and priorities can create transformative change and areas of new opportunities you never knew existed.

REBOOT's color palette is inspired by a necessary reflection on priorities to reprogram, creating a new blueprint for our course forward from here.

The unending grooves found on a woodgrain embolden a sense of limitlessness. When a grounded tether is broken, freedom of mobility is released. Migration from the once trendy areas of urban renewal to off the beaten path locations demonstrates the power of place. An understanding that where you lay your head to rest is a significant component of overall health and wellness.

Warm metals mix with other materials to add an intention of modern opulence. Gold, brass and copper evoke a sense of the classic and genuine.

Visually inviting, these trending warm metals are richly tactile and lush.

AUTHOR

A still life composition featuring a quill pen in an inkwell, an open book, and several closed books on a wooden surface. The quill is a vibrant blue color, resting in a silver inkwell with a dark base. The open book in the foreground has aged, yellowed pages. The background is a dark, textured wall, possibly wood paneling. The overall scene is lit with soft, directional light, creating highlights on the books and the quill.

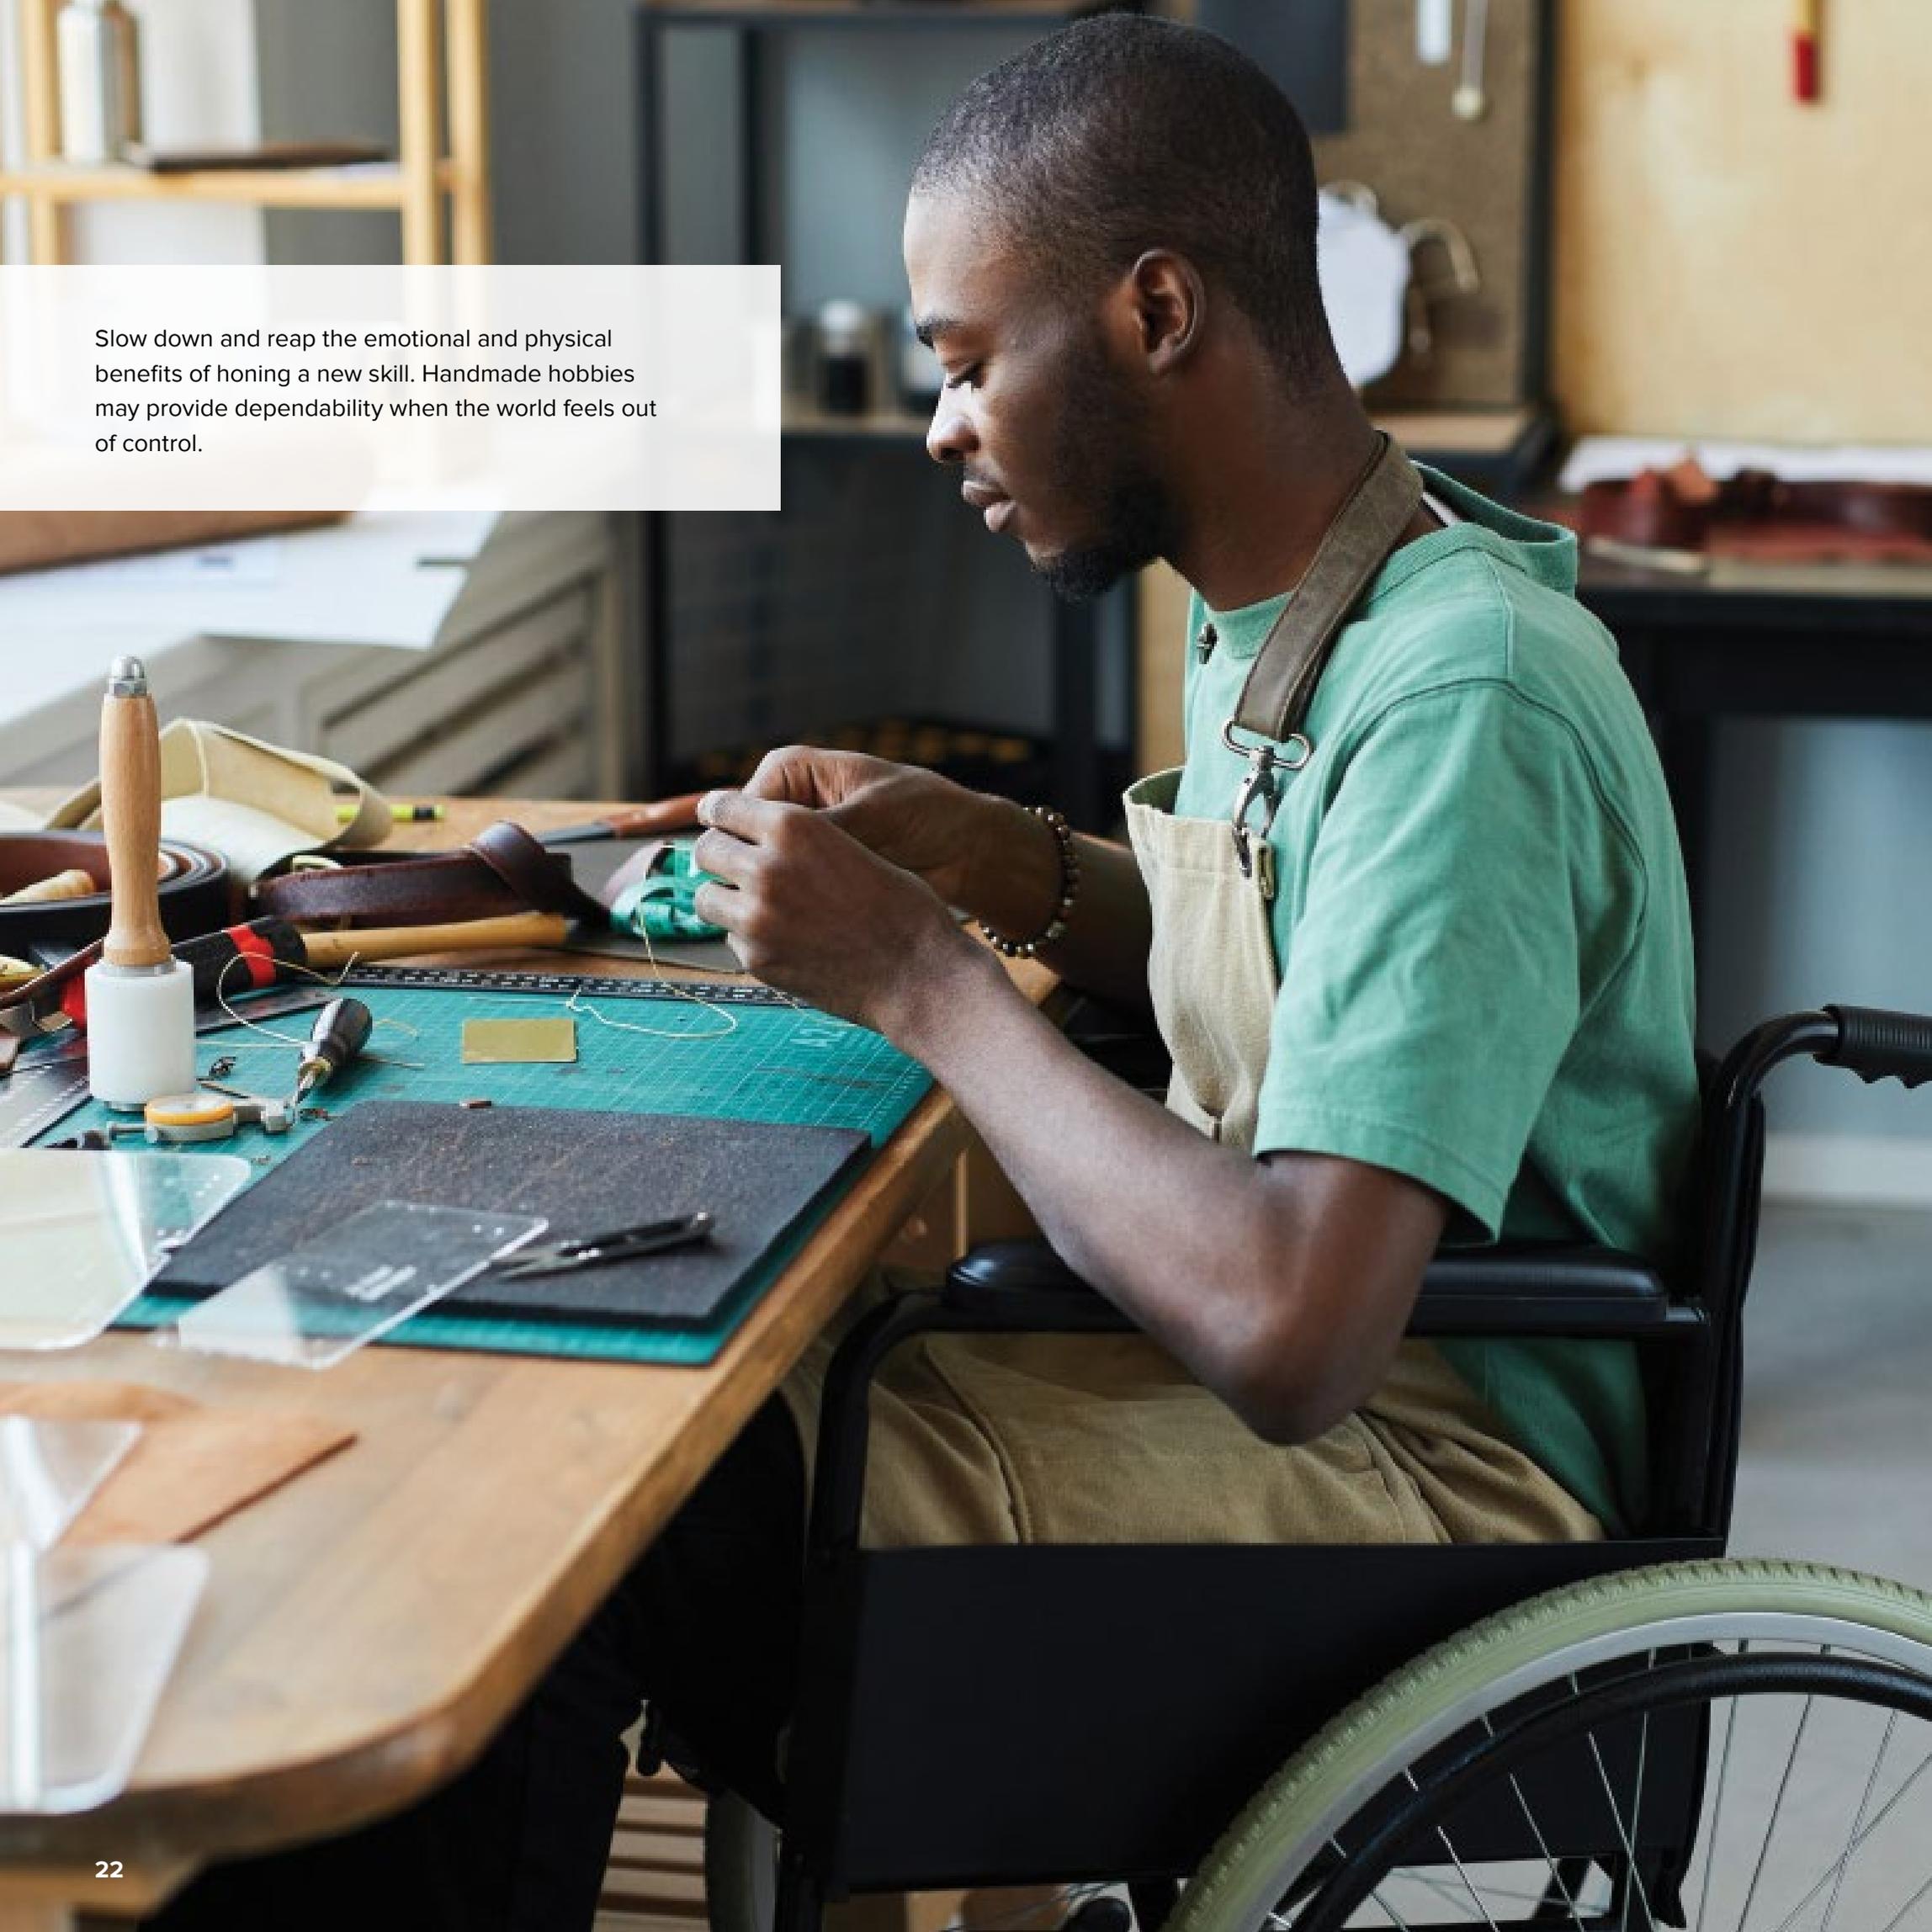

Craft the next chapter.

Soul searching and a personal reboot give way to the unfolding of your new narrative. Inward or outward, extreme or mild, these examinations ignited a power to make changes you didn't believe you could make to weather a new normal.

Unapologetically courageous, this reinvention of self may break down stereotypes and cultural norms to foster a greater sense of awakening and peace.

Now is the time to put pen to paper and tell your tale with the bold hues and striking tones of AUTHOR's color palette.

Slow down and reap the emotional and physical benefits of honing a new skill. Handmade hobbies may provide dependability when the world feels out of control.
